

Adult Learning and Skills Service

Online and beside you every step of the way

Our Learning Guidance and Support team are here to support you, whether it's taking the first step back into learning, or getting that all important qualification to open doors to further learning or employment.

Book a 30 minute advice and guidance session via Teams or on the phone to discuss your situation. We can offer you free and impartial advice about:

- Setting realistic and achievable career and education goals
- Choosing the right courses for your personal and professional development
- Funding and additional support available to help you access learning
